

Privacy Notice for California Consumers

This Privacy Notice for California Consumers applies to individuals who live in the State of California and whose data is subject to the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (“CCPA”), as amended and supplemented by the California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 (“CPRA”). Below describes what information Carelon (“Carelon” or “We” or “Us”) collects that is subject to the CCPA and CPRA, your rights under the CCPA and CPRA, and how you can enforce those rights under the CCPA and CPRA. Any terms defined in the CCPA and CPRA have the same meaning when used here.

Definitions

As defined by the CCPA and CPRA:

Consumer: A consumer is a natural person who is a California resident, living in California for other than a temporary or transitory purpose, or individual domiciled in California.

Personal Information (“PI”): Is information that identifies, relates to, describes, references, is capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer or device. Personal Information does not include:

- Publicly available information lawfully made available from government records.
- Deidentified or aggregated consumer information.
- Information excluded from the CCPA and CPRA’s scope, like:
 - health or medical information covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (“HIPAA”) and the California Confidentiality of Medical Information Act (CMIA) or clinical trial data;
 - Personal Information covered by certain sector-specific privacy laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting Act (“FCRA”), the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (“GLBA”) or the California Financial Information Privacy Act (FIPA), and the Driver’s Privacy Protection Act of 1994.

Sensitive Personal Information (“SPI”): is a subset of PI which includes:

- Government identification numbers, such as social security numbers, driver’s license numbers, state identification, numbers, or passport numbers;
- Account log-in information;
- Financial account, credit or debit card numbers, combined with a password, PIN, or other required security or access code;
- Precise geolocation;
- Racial or ethnic origin, religious or philosophical beliefs, or union membership;
- Content of postal mail, email, or text messages, unless Carelon is the intended recipient of those communications;
- Biometric data that uniquely identifies an individual or information concerning an individual’s health, sex life, or sexual orientation; and
- Genetic data

We generally do not collect additional categories of Personal Information or use the Personal Information we collected for significantly different or meaningfully unrelated purposes without providing you notice.

If certain types of information are exempt from the CCPA or CPRA this policy will not apply to such exempted data, and other Carelon privacy policies may apply.

Retention of Personal Information

We follow data minimization principles and retain Personal Information for periods of time reasonably necessary to perform our services, except where retaining data for longer periods is necessary to improve or provide services or as otherwise disclosed in our applicable policies.

We retain Personal Information that is serving a legitimate business purpose, is relevant to pending or reasonably anticipated litigation, and/or is required to be retained in compliance with applicable laws and regulations and for certain periods of time depending on the level of sensitivity in the data which may be tied to:

- Business processes and programs
- Legal obligations under applicable statutes, regulations and/or contracts
- Individual consent to use Personal Information

Where We Obtain Personal Information

We obtain the categories of Personal Information listed above from the following categories of sources:

- Directly from you or your devices. For example, from forms you complete on our website.
- Indirectly from you. For example, from observing your actions on our website, managing and monitoring access to Our secured facilities, or interactions with our advertisers.

- Legal and Compliance: To comply with legal obligations and internal policies regarding HR analytics, including requests from government statistics services, process conflict of interest reporting, process employee work-related claims such as worker compensation or insurance claims ensure compliance with our employee policies and security requirements gather evidence for and to support any internal investigations, litigation, disciplinary action, termination, or related activities, protect, enforce, and defend the legal rights, privacy, safety, or property of us and our employees, agents, and contractors, protect against fraud and manage risk, and comply with applicable laws, regulations, legal processes, or enforceable governmental requests.
- Acquisition or Merger: To manage acquisitions, mergers, and reorganizations or sale of some or all of a company.
- Other Business Purposes: For other purposes that you would reasonably expect, or for which we provide specific notice at the time the information is collected.

If you have any questions, comments, or concerns about our processing activities, please contact your HR or Recruiting representative, as appropriate.

Sharing of Personal Information

Carelon may disclose your Personal Information to a third party for a business or commercial purpose. When we disclose Personal Information for a business purpose, we enter a contract that describes the purpose and requires the recipient to both keep that Personal Information confidential and not use it for any purpose except performing the contract.

In the preceding twelve (12) months, Carelon has disclosed the following categories of Personal Information for a business purpose:

- Category A: Identifiers
- Category B: California Customer Records
- Category C: Protected classification characteristics under California or federal law.
- Category F: Internet history
- Category I: Professional or employment-related information

In the preceding twelve (12) months, Carelon has not disclosed Personal Information for a commercial purpose. However, for California consumers, the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) and the California Privacy Rights Act (CPRA) define “selling” Personal Information to include providing it to a third party in exchange for money or valuable services. We may in the future disclose data in any of the categories above to certain third parties for commercial purposes, in our products and services or in exchange for valuable services, such as advertising or social media engagement services, which may constitute a “sale” under the CCPA/CPRA.

Pursuant to our Privacy Notice, we share your information with the following categories of third parties for a business purpose:

- Advertising Providers: Advertising technology companies, such as advertising networks.
- ISPs: Internet service providers.
- Analytics Providers.
- Government: Government entities.
- OS/Platform Provider: Operating systems and platforms.
- Social Networks.
- Resellers: Consumer data brokers.
- Affiliates.
- Vendors: Vendors and service providers.
- Integrated Third Parties: Third parties integrated into our services.
- Third Parties as Legally Required: Third parties as required by law and similar disclosures.
- Third Parties in Merger/Acquisition: Third parties in connection with a merger, sale, or asset transfer.
- Third Parties with Consent: Other third parties for whom we have obtained your permission to disclose your Personal Information.

For avoidance of doubt, we do not sell health information subject to HIPAA without your express authorization. If you give us such an authorization, you may revoke it in writing at any time. Your revocation will not affect any use or disclosure permitted by your authorization while it was in effect.

Your Privacy Rights and Choices

The CCPA and CPRA provide Consumers with specific rights regarding their Personal Information. This section describes your CCPA and CPRA rights and explains how to exercise those rights.

"Verifiable Consumer Request"

To exercise your rights to access or delete your Personal Information under the CCPA/CPRA, you must submit a “verifiable consumer request.” Only you, or a person registered with the California Secretary of State that you authorize to act on your behalf, may make a verifiable consumer request related to your Personal Information. You may also make a verifiable consumer request on behalf of your minor child.

A verifiable consumer request must:

- Provide sufficient information that allows us to reasonably verify you are the person about whom we collected Personal Information or an authorized representative.
- Describe your request with sufficient detail that allows us to properly understand, evaluate, and respond to it.

If we cannot verify your identity or authority to make the request, we will not be able to fulfill your request. The information provided for verification will only be used for that purpose.

Authorizing an Agent

To authorize an agent to make a request to know or delete on your behalf, please write to the contact address below. To authorize an agent to make an opt-out request on your behalf, please send a written authorization signed by you and the authorized agent to us via the Contact Information section.

Processing Fees

We do not charge a fee to process or respond to your verifiable consumer request unless it is excessive, repetitive, or manifestly unfounded. If we determine that the request warrants a fee, we will tell you why we made that decision and provide you with a cost estimate before completing your request.

Personal Information Sales Opt-Out and Opt-In Rights

In some circumstances, you may opt out of the sale of your Personal Information. If you are 16 years of age or older, you have the right to direct us to not sell your Personal Information at any time (the “right to opt-out”). We do not sell the Personal Information of consumers we actually know are less than 16 years of age, unless we receive affirmative authorization (the “right to opt-in”) from either the consumer who is between 13 and 16 years of age, or the parent or guardian of a consumer less than 13 years of age. Consumers who opt-in to Personal Information sales may opt-out of future sales at any time. We may ask for information from you to verify your identity and help ensure your request does not infringe upon the rights of others, for example, an individual who has not opted out but has a similar name as you.

To exercise the right to opt-out, you (or your authorized representative) may submit a request to us by visiting <https://www.elevancehealth.com/privacy-form> or via the contact information below.

Once you make an opt-out request, we will wait at least twelve (12) months before asking you to reauthorize the sale of your Personal Information.

However, you may change your mind and opt back in to Personal Information sales at any time by visiting our website and sending us a message. We will only use Personal Information provided in an opt-out request to review and comply with the request.

Non-Discrimination

We will not discriminate against you for exercising any of your CCPA or CPRA rights. Unless permitted by the CCPA or the CPRA, we will not:

- Deny you goods or services.
- Charge you different prices or rates for goods or services, including through granting discounts or other benefits, or imposing penalties.
- Provide you a different level or quality of goods or services.
- Suggest that you may receive a different price or rate for goods or services or a different level or quality of goods or services.

We may offer you certain financial incentives such as discounted prices, rates, or quality levels. Any permitted financial incentive we offer will reasonably relate to your Personal Information’s value and contain written terms that describe the program’s material aspects. Participation in a financial incentive program requires your prior opt in consent, which you may revoke at any time.

“Shine the Light”

California’s “Shine the Light” law (Civil Code Section § 1798.83) permits users of our Website who are California consumer to request certain information regarding our disclosure of Personal Information to third parties for their direct marketing purposes. To make such a request, please send us an electronic message through our website or write us at our address listed below.

Changes to Our Privacy Notice

We reserve the right to amend this privacy notice at our discretion and at any time. When we make changes to this privacy notice, we will post the updated notice on the Website and update the notice's effective date. Your continued use of our Website following the posting of changes constitutes your acceptance of such changes.
